LEADING THE WAY: Nurses and midwives for a safe, healthy and peaceful world

The 4th Commonwealth Nurses and Midwives Conference
Royal College of Physicians, Regent's Park, London, UK
Saturday 10 and Sunday 11 March 2018

The 4th Commonwealth Nurses and Midwives Conference was held Saturday 10 and Sunday 11 March 2018 at the historic Royal College of Physicians, Regent's Park London.

Two hundred and fifteen participants from 24 different countries attended the conference. The conference was opened by the Commonwealth Secretary General, the Right Hon Patricia Scotland QC who gave the keynote address.

Excellent presentations by nurses and midwives from every region of the Commonwealth addressed the conference theme, demonstrating how nurses and midwives can and are leading the way to a safe, healthy and peaceful world.

The conference was a wonderful opportunity for nurses and midwives across the Commonwealth and beyond to share their experience with and learn from each other; to make new friends; and to establish international networks.

The evaluations from the conference demonstrated that 100% of participants learned something new at the conference and 100% were able to make new friends or new networks. The Book of Abstracts and conference evaluation can be accessed on the CNMF website:
